

They are endangered because the forest is being destroyed and that is where they live.

