Native Plant Society of Texas

Promoting conservation, research and utilization of native plants and plant habitats of Texas through education, outreach and example.

P. O. Box 3017, Fredericksburg, Texas 78624
npsot.org • 830.997.9272 • state@npsot.org

Houston Chapter P.O. Box 131254 Houston, Texas 77219-1254

Dear Sir or Madam:

I am writing to express my support for the Roots and Shoots Club at Seven Lakes High School in Katy, Texas. Club founder, Shivani Mukkamala, has reached out to us for feedback on their plan and proposal.

Our organization's mission is to "promote conservation, research, and utilization of native plants and plant habitats of Texas through education, outreach, and example." Helping a high school group use native plants to aid in stormwater absorption, support declining populations of pollinators, and support soil health is well aligned with our purpose.

We are a non-profit group of passionate and knowledgeable volunteers with connections throughout the native plant and ecological restoration community of growers and landscape designers. If we do not have available volunteers with the necessary skills from within our group, we can help this student group find the resources they need to plan and execute their plans.

I appreciate your consideration of their proposal and am available to answer any questions should the need arise.

Thank you,

Doreen Gallevo, Houston Chapter President
Native Plant Society of Texas
dgallevo@fastmail.com
713.705.5808